Pastor's Message

Whenever my soul is in need of soothing, I turn to poetry. I used to dislike poetry. Well, not dislike it so much as not willing to take the time or inclination to slow down enough to enjoy it. Don't get me wrong, in my teen years I fancied myself a poet- dramatic, emotive poems of teenage angst and swirling emotion were my choice but reading others' poetry, no thanks. Now, I find glorious pause in the midst of poetry.

Today I spent some time perusing Mary Oliver's poetry. specifically, her poetry about birds. It could have just as easily been the Psalms, or Song of Songs but I had a dream in which I started growing feathers last night, so Mary Oliver and birds seemed apropos. I found her poem Snow Geese again.

Snow Geese

Oh, to love what is lovely, and will not last!
What a task
to ask
of anything, or anyone,
yet it is ours,
and not by the century or the year, but by the hours.
One fall day I heard above me, and above the sting of the wind, a sound I did not know, and my look shot upward; it was a flock of snow geese, winging it faster than the ones we usually see,
and, being the color of snow, catching the sun so they were, in part at least, golden. I held my breath
as we do sometimes to stop time
when something wonderful
has touched us
as with a match,
which is lit, and bright,
but does not hurt

in the common way,
but delightfully,
as if delight
were the most serious thing you ever felt.
The geese
flew on,
I have never seen them again.
Maybe I will, someday, somewhere.
Maybe I won't.
It doesn't matter.
What matters
is that, when I saw them,
I saw them
as through the veil, secretly, joyfully, clearly.

"Oh to love what is lovely, and will not last!" It is when we are able to be present in the moment that we are blessed to see the loveliness of God's beautiful creation, including each other. When is the last time you felt seen? When is the last time you were truly present in the moment? A moment of joy in watching birds flit about or a moment of connection with another in which you saw their pain, their joy, their hope, their frustration and didn't turn away? Each day is really just moments. Moments in which we can be present or moments that get missed because we are already too busy with the next thing to experience what is right in front of us. My favorite type of prayer is simply using some of those moments to be present with God. Be present to the beauty around us and listen to God speak. I pray you have many moments in which you see God, the beauty of this world, and each other "through the veil, secretly, joyfully, clearly."

May you find comfort and peace in God's presence.
Pastor Mel

Thank You

I wish to express my gratitude for the opportunity to work at First UMC for almost eight years. I will be moving on to another job, and my last day in the church office was Friday, March 15. I have enjoyed the work here and the many friendships made. Thank you for the kind emails and messages on the church's Facebook page. I will miss everyone and appreciate your prayers. God's blessings to all of you!

First UMC gratefully acknowledges the families of Bill Oleson and Wally & Paula Stittsworth for making these scholarships possible.

Holy Humor Sunday!

April 7th 10am Sunday Morning Worship

Come and join us as we celebrate the Easter season with lots of jokes and (hopefully) laughter! For centuries in Eastern Orthodox, Catholic and Protestant countries, the week following Easter Sunday, including "Bright Sunday" (the Sunday after Easter), was observed by the faithful as "days of joy and laughter" to celebrate Jesus' resurrection. Come and celebrate Jesus' resurrection with us!
